ALEXANDRIA CHARGE FOR GAS DIVIDES COUNCIL

Question of Remitting Armory Hall Bills Sent to Committee.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.

A lengthy session of the city council was held last evening. The first matter which came up was a report of the committee on light in favor of remitting bills for gas used at Armory Hall.

President Snowden opposed the adoption of the report, as he declared it would be unjust to the gas consumers to allow the Light Infantry the gas used in their armory when the armory was being used as a skating rink and as a dance hall.

The council from this were not all going to private persons. He moved that the council appropriate $50 for the Alexandria Light Infantry. His motion was lost. The common council then adopted the committee's report, but when the matter came up in the board of aldermen that body refused to concur and referred the matter to the committee on finance and light. The common council reconsidered its former action and concurred.

J. H. Mansfield was granted the privilege to put an iron roof on the rear of his house, 517 King street. Permission was granted E. C. Roberts to make alterations to houses 506 and 508 Queen street.

The board of aldermen appropriated $25 to repair the old Hydraulion engine-house, but the lower board non-concurred.

The common council adopted a schedule for the operation of the street cars in this city, but the board of aldermen non-concurred and the matter was referred to the committee on streets.

Three hundred and fifty dollars was appropriated to the Co-operative Charities of this city.

The special grand jury was busy from 3 until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon examining witnesses relative to the condition of the school buildings of Alexandria. Judge Barley made an additional charge to the grand jury in which he called their attention to the condition of what is known as the Howell building, in the rear of the Washington School, and to Hollowell School for Catholic Girls.
